

Best Of

January 24, 2011 12:34 PM

It's a fact of life — everyone eats. However, while every “body” needs nourishment, there is a vast difference in the quality and artistic effort we put into the food we consume. Some think a TV dinner is bliss. Many others, however, believe a proper meal must have that certain ingredient, that certain element, that certain something in order to be edible. If you're type of person who is always seeking that ultimate special item, then the best gourmet food stores in Las Vegas are where you should shop. Here are a few not to be missed. — Mike Donahue

Taste Specialty Foods

3945 West Reno Ave, Unit E
Las Vegas, NV 89118
(702) 733-6789
www.tastefoods.com

The Wagyu Beef sold at Taste offers rich marbling and flavor.
Credit Tastefoods.com

Taste Specialty Foods has some of the best and unique gourmet foods available in Las Vegas. While owners and staff have a culinary expertise they willingly share with the gourmet novice, many of their customers include top gourmet chefs from high-end restaurants and hotels all over the city. Taste offers some unbelievable oils and vinegar, salts and peppers, seafood and caviars including Beluga, American Paddlefish and Golden Ostrer. Its inventory includes Wagyu beef (“white steak”) for premier restaurants that can be special ordered for home use. Although primarily a wholesaler, Taste welcomes walk-ins. Hours: Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.